Both Diesel and Gas Engine Powered are available with the option of having the ability to power from the hangar without having to run the engine. Eliminating dangerous fumes and noise when needed to run in or near a building.

With this dual input power option household type of power outlets are also on the unit for vacuum cleaners, lights, air compressors, air conditioners, and other tools. Some have even used these outlets to open their electrically powered hangar doors during a power outage.

The Modular Diesel and the Modular Gas can be quickly undocked into two parts for loading by hand into an aircraft's cargo bay.
